Discover Technology that Responds to the Complexities of Today's Operating Environment

Existing, Fragmented Solutions Cannot Respond to Hospitality's Operating Challenges

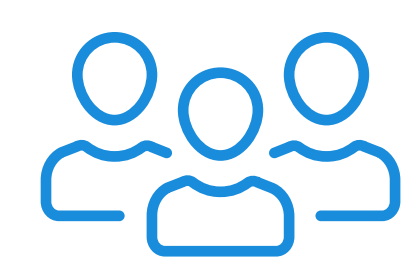

Chronic Turnover

On average, service oriented businesses experience annual turnover rates in excess of 80%. Scheduling dissatisfaction is the most common reason for employees leaving in the first 90 days.

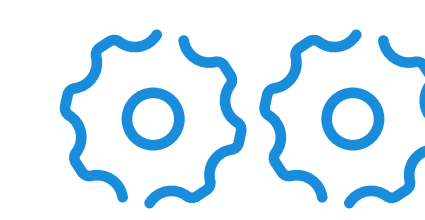

Rampant Regulation

With the compliance environment rapidly changing, existing technologies are unable to respond due to their inability to deliver a cohesive solution, ultimately forcing operators to work in multiple systems.

Labor Market Conditions

Record low unemployment, the intensity of a tight labor market, and wage inflation pressures are calling for a single technological response to help leaders to successfully navigate.

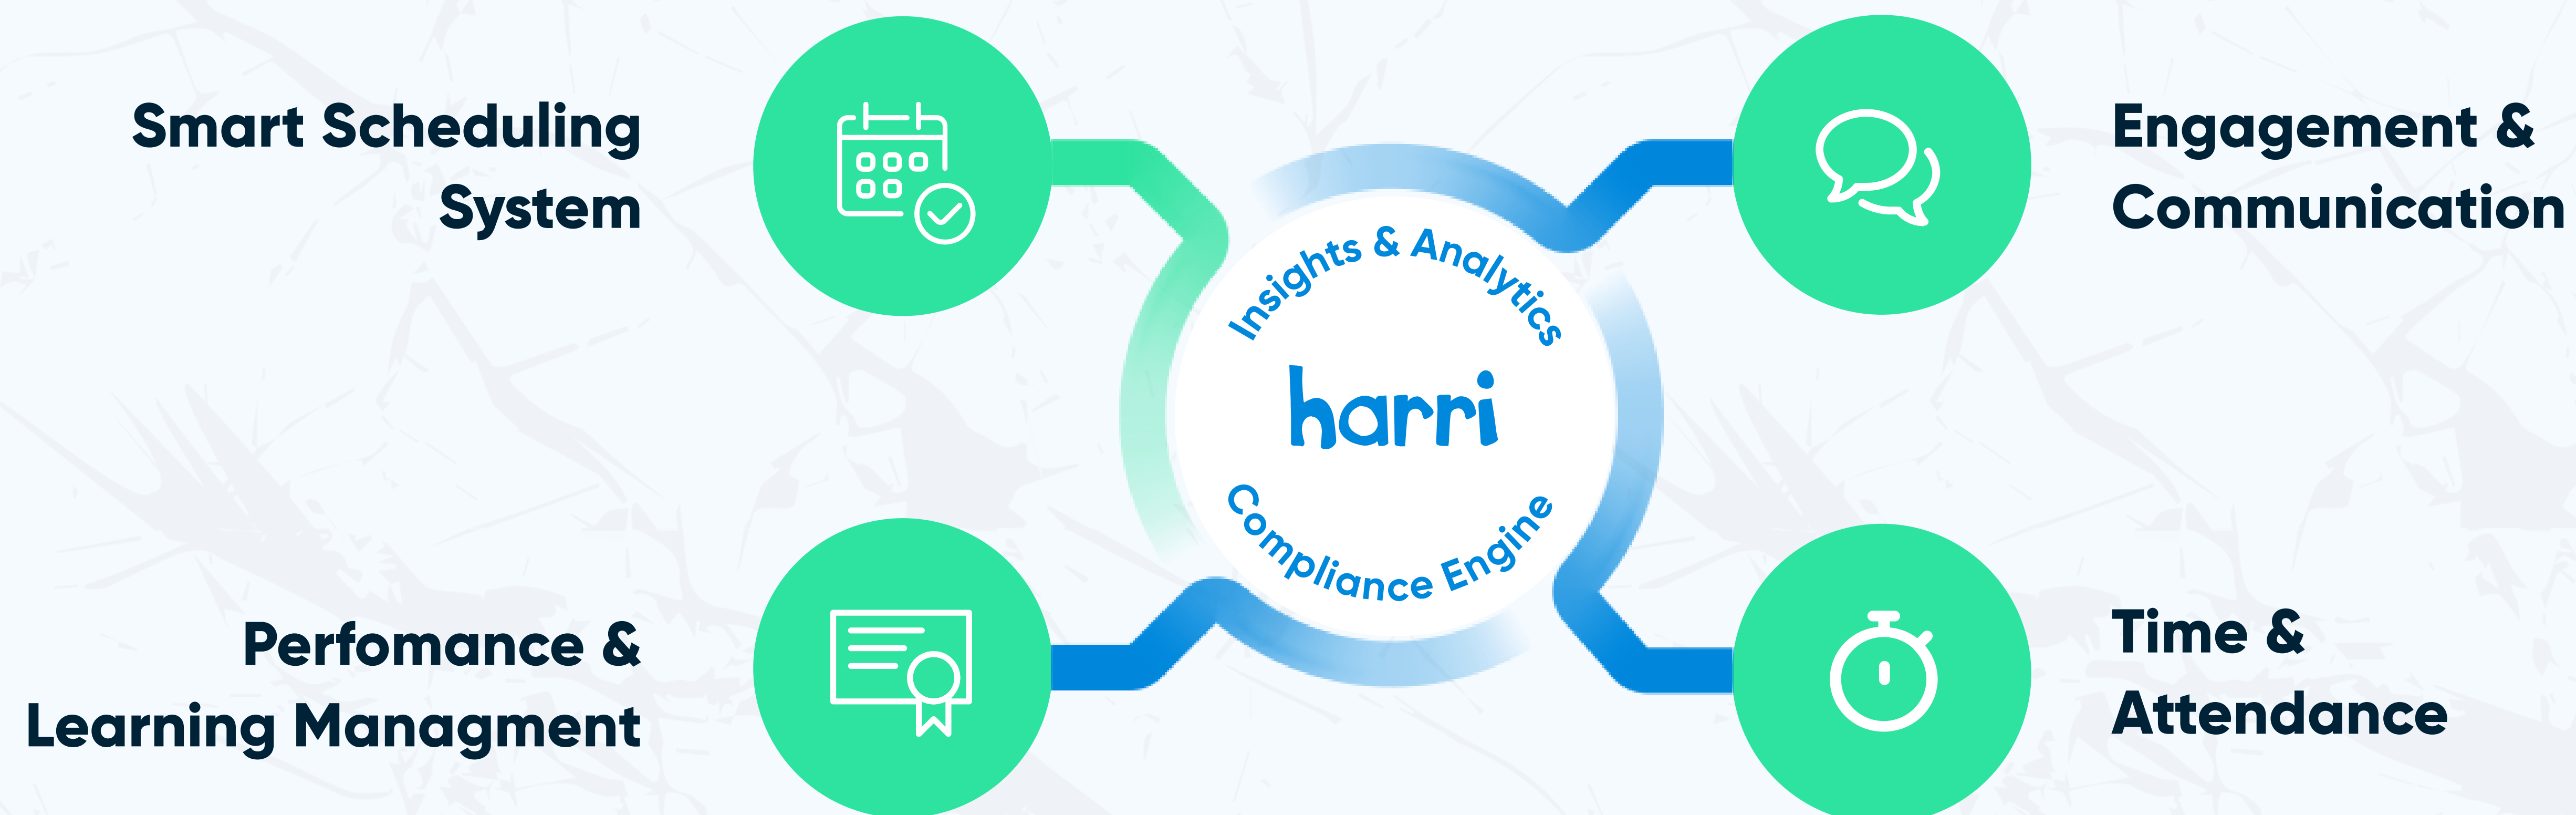

Dysfunctional Data

With fragmented systems managing different points of the employee experience, it becomes an impossibility to access insights that can inform critical actions in the sales and labor environments.

A Harmonized Solution that Unifies the Employee Experience

From the very first day on the job, Harri offers a single platform to support employers to put loveable technology on the hands of their employees.
