Our Sustainability Certifications

Explore

The Aviation Sustainability Forum (ASF) is a not-for-profit organisation whose mission is to make air travel more sustainable.

Buzz has supported this organisation by providing funding for the delivery of ASF Project 1, which addresses issues with international cabin waste.

EcoVadis is an online rating platform that provides sustainability ratings to allow organisations to evaluate and measure their own, and their suppliers, sustainability performance.

Buzz has achieved a silver rating and awarded a Silver EcoVadis Medal for Buzz Export Services Pty Ltd.

Buzz has partnered with CRI so that we can provide low and net-zero carbon products. CRI analyses the carbon emissions of both our products and their delivery from factory to customer, and provides us with carbon offset options. We use these findings to design lower carbon products, and to offer the option of net-zero carbon products.
